Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Wednesday 22 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cold and cloudy, rain later.

Today:
An overcast start for much of the area with occasional fog patches, although a few sunny spells will break through towards the south. Possibly frosty at first, remaining cold throughout the day with rain arriving late afternoon. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Tonight:
Rain gradually easing during the evening, remaining cloudy with widespread mist forming across the region. Foggy conditions are likely across high ground, temperatures rising towards dawn. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Thursday:
Another cloudy day, with outbreaks of rain and very poor visibilities at times, particularly over high ground. Some drier weather possible towards the south during the evening. Feeling milder. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Cloudy with light rain on Christmas Eve, snow possible over hills. Drier for Christmas Day and Boxing Day, but feeling cold with a fresh breeze. Low confidence in drier weather.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.